

Milan Dharmasthali School

2077/03/21

Sub: English

Class: 9

Unit: 1

Lesson: The wind and the leaves

Specific objective :The reader will be able to know that not only human beings but also the nature should follow the strict rules .

Summary:

The poem ' The wind and the leaves ' is a lyrical and melodious poem composed by the poet named ' George Cooper ' . The poem is based on a natural interplay between the autumn leaves and the wind. Here the poet strongly advocates the strict natural rule to which everything is confined and also via the poem it tries to aware the aware the reader that not only humans but also the nature is compelled to follow the rules to make the world systematic and effective in an evitable way.

Overall in the poem it presents a very common natural happening in different seasons of the year which supports an idea that changes into evitable and certain rules of nature.

1. Write the similar words for the following given words

Breeze

Grassland

Wear

Delicate

Satisfied

Chilly

Bedsread

Attires

2. Give a single word for the following meanings.

- a. Moving lightly and quickly
- b. To move or make somebody move in a circular way
- c. Of or like earth or soil
- d. A type of bedspread to cover a bed

3. Questions

- a. How do the leaves look when they are old and ready to drop?
- b. Why were the leaves so satisfied to come down?
- c. What did the wind ask the leaves to do?
- d. When did the snow lay the bedspread over them?
- e. Why does the poet say the leaves are fast asleep?
- f. What does the poet mean by ' singing the soft song they knew ' ?